NIFTY OUTLOOK

The Nifty commenced the day on a bearish note as it failed to open above 6100. The only attempt to bounce back early during the session was dealt with by heavy supply near 6090, and thereafter, the index remained under constant selling pressure and settled near the day's low at 5980.45 levels.

- The price action formed the strong bear candle since March 19, 2013 which engulfed the last five session's price action and formed lower higher lower low formation. In the process, the index also tested last Tuesday's rising gap area of 5971 - 5982 but failed to close below the same. After a record 18 higher lows.
- ♦ After the sharp sell off on Monday, the index could attempt a pullback in the coming session as intra day charts have reached oversold position. However Failure to sustain above 6100 on a closing basis and follow through selling below Monday's low 5972 would open up further downsides towards 5850 in the short term. The rising gap of April 25, 2013 5836 5853 and 50 Days EMA 5850 make this an important support for prices. while sustaining above 6021 which is 14.6% Fibonacci retracement level of the up-move from 5477 to 6114 on a Daily Close basis would allow for the up side momentum to remain intact.
- In a yesterday's session noticeable deterioration in market breadth seen which served as an early warning of a weakening uptrend and prepared us for a round of profit booking. Monday's sell-off in index heavyweights along with weak broader markets could be an early sign of a short-term top at last week's high of 6114, which is almost similar to the January 2013 high of 6111.
- Among oscillators, the smoother RSI on daily chart on verge of negative crossover from the overbought territory and supportive to downward price action in the indices.

For today trend deciding level for Nifty placed at 6019 if Nifty trade above this level then it may go up to 6036 - 6058 - 6077 level. However if Nifty trade below 6019 then it may find immediate support at 5970 level any violation of such support would signal further decline up to 5944 - 5920 level.
